Our dispatches yes terday afternoon brought us the startling intelligence that Gov. Magoffin had vetoed the resolutions introduced by Mr. Harney, from Jefferson county, and that, as a necessary consequence, the two houses were compelled to pass it over his head. The contrast between the loyalty of the members of the Legislature, freshly elected from the people, and the base treason of the Governor, who was elected three years ago, will be the first impression made upon every mind.

This disagreement between the Governor and the people might be expected in ordi nary times; but a Governor who suffers himself to be made the tool, to be moulded and formed into any shape the traitors around him may desire, is worse than wicked-he is weak. Mr. Magoffin must and ought to have known the consequence of the alarming step he has taken; he must have understood, as every one else does, that it is a quasi justification of treason and rebellion. It may be that lying on soft couches, and sipping the red wine of Bourbon, and tasting the blood of the grape, he did not know that he was trying to pour out the blocd of the citizens; but if there is one man in Kentucky that hesitates as to. the true meaning and intent of it, we do not

Our Legislature has been censured, and very severely censured, for not acting speedily. Its action has been declared dilatory and injurious; its terms not posi tive, because there was a disposition to unite in one grand column the whole State of Kentucky. At such a time a resolution defending the honor of the State is introduced, and the Governor vetoes it.

Resolved, That we fear a civil war in the State is the necessary and inevitable consequence of the introduction into our limits of a standing army, officered and paid by any party other than the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Why should it lead to civil war? What right has any Kentuckian to presume that new stamped envelopes, must be sent to it will lead to civil war? Do we not owe be used in credifing subscription accounts allegiance to the Federal Government? Have not an overwhelming majority, in three separate elections, declared their allegiance? If a loyal regard to State rights determines the position of the State by the will of the majority, what right has any member of the Legislature to presume that any citizen of Kentucky will disobey the expressed will of the people? Have we any right to call any of our citizens traitors, and believe that they will rise in sufficient numbers to create civil war? Has that member any evidence to prove that they will rise, and who they are? If he has, is it not his duty, as a sworn officer of the State, to whom the high and responsible trust of the safety and welfare of all is intrusted, to take immediate and active steps to arrest and punish such men? In the whole scope of his duty is there one more sacred than this? This member is elected, takes an oath to support the United States Government. Our State is attacked, wan toply, treacherously, and insultingly at tacked. We have but one means of defense. It is the duty of the Federal Government, under the great Constitution, to protect us, a sacred and unavoidable duty: and yet this distinguished member tells us that the introduction of that army will produce civil war. He would have us murdered defenselessly in our beds by Tennes seeans, for fear we might be murdered by some fellow-citizens. If he knows of any man, or any band of men, whose intention it is to create civil war because we are defended by our own army, how can he avoid the inevitable, sacred and sworn duty of pointing them out, and from his place in the House denounce them? With this grave and important knowledge, how can he arise in the councils of the State without pointing out who it is that has marked us for slaughter? If he has no such information, what then is his resolution but nonsense?

What right has he to presume that the introduction of a standing army, officered give us to understand that Kentucky is an and paid by Tennessee, will lead to civil er, and the slavery of self-defense is worse independent power. Of all the hearts that break;
But since so many hearts have bled
Thy flower hath turn'd blood-red.
Thee on my breast I wear
For now a heart bleeds there.

WHITE ROSE! Why pluck I not the red?
The red rose speaks of love:

What speaks the white rose of?
Despair! Love's last despair!
This is the load I bear:
So I the white rose wear.

Of thy soft bell,
Yet each breath shakes it, as in toll

Grief is thy second name;
Grief bendeth down thy head;

Who grieveth not for some one dead?
Grief's flower I wear upon my breast;

FRANKFORT, Sept. 10, 1861. As your Representative, I came to Frank fort with an earnest desire and an honest intention of preserving the peace. sidering that a neutral power may discharge prior obligations to either belligerent, and we were under prior obligations to the Federal Government, both of a constitutional and pecuniary character; and that even as between independent nations, an innocent passage through a neutral's domain i due to either party to the war; considering the formation of camps and large armies within a stone's throw of our border in Tennessee, and the oft repeated and authentic avowal that the camp at Dick Robinson was purely defensive, and for no purpose of offense, its formation was not a violation of Kentucky's neutrality.

Yet I regretted its formation. It seemed to give irritation and offense to good men, and I came here prepared to vote for its disperson or removal, on certain conditions, of Tennessee who pledged me his honor that the camps so long kept on our border were for no purpose hostile to Kentucky, but to resist, at the best points in Tennessee, an invasion of that State through Kentucky by United States forces. It will be seen that before the Legislature could do anything, aye, before they were organized, we were invaded by our "Southern sister," Tennessee, who had solemnly protested that her immense armies were only to defend herself against attack, against attack in a quarter where there was no danger of attack. Was the "one long, loud blast of the bugle" sounded from Southern Kentucky, or was it at the discretion of the newly made judge of "military necessity" as a peace measure. As I came through and the law of neutrality? In either case Louisville I met with a distinguished citizen it was equally wicked. In either event the question of peace or war was taken from our control and decided by others. In this connection I will add that I have just returned (as a spectator) from the "Peace Convention" held to day in this city. There I heard the most prominent and dis-tinguished speaker of the day, after deciding what was the duty of the State and of the present Legislature, assert with all the energy and emphasis he could throw into the sentence, "And I will wage eternal war against those members of this Legislature who prove recreant to the trust confided in ment of the tax which Congress at its last session anthorized to be collected for the purpose of carrying on the war, and the said resolution also for the recognition of the independence of the Confederate States, begleave to report thereon.

Your committee is of opinion that the law imposing the tax is within the constitutional powers of Congress. The money to be raised by the tax will be used, and was intended by the law imposing the tax to be used, in defending and preserving the Government of the United States against powerful efforts now being made to overthrow the Geveral Government. The Sth section of article lst of the Constitution of the United States authorizes the Congress of the United States to lay and collect taxes to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States. The act Congress just referred to comes within that clause of the Constitution of the United States. The fact that the veole of Kentuck: were opposed to the inauguration of the war now carried on, is no reason why they should not fulfill their constitutional oblications. The war was begun by South Carolina, one of the Confederate States, and soon after nine States united with her in the war. The people of those States are now in arms against the government of the United States. They have brought powerful armies into the held, which are now in sight of the National Ca ital, and threaten to seize it and overthrow the Gov-nament of the United States. They have brought powerful armies into the emined to defend that government against its enemies, it is a powerful, a wise, a benificent rovernment. It is he work of a most divine wisdom, No oppression everlowed from it to the people. It provected its citizens both at home and abroad, and gave them a home which was respected by all the civilized nations of the earth. Is a terrible disease. Of "all the ills that flesh is heir to," it is the faintest in its first manifestations, the most medical skill. Fever and Ague is more destructive of life than consumption, because it is more easily induced and therefore more prevalent. It marks its victims for the grave, like an executioner's bond. Day by day the sufferer grows weaker and weaker, and each hour does he fear a strong consciousness of approaching the tomb. BLOOD PILLS AND PURIFIER.

Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Remedies! THE EVIDENCE IN THE POSSESSION OF DR. BO
Thack, which is at all times accessible to the public

That he Blood Purider and Blood Pills have been proved by analysis to contain no mineral; that they care the almost universal complaint, Dyspeps, with uncertise certainty, and in a very short time; that, after all other medicines have proved neeless, they relieve Liver Complaint, and restore the health and strength of the sufferer; that sick females, who have languished for years in helpless weakness and despondency, recuperate with great rapidity under their invisorating operation that all sexual disabilities are removed by their condial and gently stimulating properties; that they recruit shattered constitutions, however they may have been trified with and abused; that their direct tendency is clearly upon the poison of the disease in the blood, they same soon to heal and discharge from the system every taint of Scrottia, whether hereditary or otherwise that they recruit the debilitated, and that there is no disease of the Etomach and Boweis, the Liver, the Nervons System, the Skin, Glands or Muscless.

Messrs. J. N. Harris & Co.—Gents: * * * * The Pain Riller has been a constant occupant of our house for over two years, and a portion of the time it has be n the only me it is not under our roof. The almost uninetrupted health of our seven children I can attribute to nothing else than having the means always at hand to throw oft any sudden attack of disease, caused by undue exposure, etc. Hardly ever do I have my children ompiain of being sick, without having them a k in the same sentence for Pain Killer.

For several years before I became acquainted with the Pain Killer. I had suffered a gre t deal fr m an affection in my throat, thought by some physicians to be BRONCHITIS, by others to be what is called MINISTERS SORE THROAT; a toce time it was so severe that I was obliged to give up preaching. Within a few months after I had become acquainted with the Pain Killer, I had another at ack from that distressing complaint. I tried my new found medicine, and to my astenishment and deleght I found it pro used a wooderfully southing effect, in a short time I was wholly releved. Since that time I have had a number of attacks of the same nature, and the Pain Killer has aways afforded me the relief. For the last Tan Yeans I have hardly toot a termon in consequence of Sove Throat! About one year sluce, my wife became subject to severe uffering from Rheumatism; our resort as usud, was to the Pain Killer, which would always relieve her. When we could use as much of it as was necessary, when hearty good will, and always have come in praise of the Pain Killer. on both my legs, which extended until from my knees to my teet was one raw sore. I consulted and obtained my dicines and prescriptions from near y all the physicians in this vicinity, but obtained no relief. Your agent at this place, Mr. Hoffman, recommended me to try the S. rup and Cerate, which I fortunately did, and am now a sound and well man by their use.

With great gratitude, I remain yours truly.

Mr. Weirbsught being a well known gentleman of Ashland co., makes this information most reliable.

By taking the Syrap as directe., it will drive the disease from the system, and when once out on the Ashna a few applications of Dr. Weaver's Cerate or Olimment, and you have a permanent cure.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 .- The following is Gen. Rosecrans' official report:

CAMP SCOTT, Sept. 11, P. M. To Col E. D Townsend:
We yesterday marched 17½ miles, and reached the enemy's entrenched position, in front of Cornix Ferry, driving his ad-vanced outside pickets before us. We found him occupying a strong entrenched position, covered by a forest too dense to admit of its being seen at a distance of 300 yards. His force was seven regiments, besides the one driven in.

At 3 o'clock we began a strong reconnoiswe were about to assault the position on the flank and front, when night coming on. our troops being completely exhaus ted, I drew them out of the woods posted them in order of battle, behind ridges immediately in front of the enemy's position, where they rested on their arms till morning. Shortly afterwards a runaway "contraband" came in and reported that the enemy had crossed the Gauley during the night by means of the ferry and a bridge which they had completed.

Colonel Ewing was ordered to take possession of the camp, which he did at about seven o'clock, capturing a few prisoners, two stand of colors, a considerable quantity of arms, with quartermaster's stores, messing and camp equipage.

The enemy have destroyed the bridge across the Gauley, which here goes through a deep gorge, and our troops being still much fatigued, and having no material for immediately replacing the bridge, it was thought prudent to encamp the troops and occupy the ferry and captured camp, sending a few rifled cannon shots after the eneto produce a moral effect. [Correspondence of the St. Louis Republican] CAIRO, Sept. 11 .- The gunboats Conestoga and Lexington were below here all day yesterday, and had a considerable engagement, lasting nearly six hours, with the rebel gunboat Yankee and several batteries a short distance above Columbus. The Conestoga first discovered the Yankee, and opened fire on her, which the latter returned, and was assisted by a smaller boat and the batteries on shore. The officers of the Conestoga report that the Yankee was driven back, with one of her wheels disabled, and that four batteries of four guns each were driven back into Columbus. Strange to say, only one man was hurt on our side, a man named Castle, from Mt Vernon, Indiana. A shell passed between the chimneys of the Conestoga. Castle was struck by a rifle ball from the shore, and probably cannot recover.

The gunboats threw shell into the woods and other places where it was supposed that the enemy might be concealed, but it is not known with what effect. The Conestoga and Lexington returned last evening. Southern Missouri is again attracting attention. Three regiments from Bird's Point were under marcing orders last night, probably destined for Sikestown. It is supposed that rebel forces are advancing from below. An unpleasant affray occurred yesterday, between Mr. H C. There had been a difficulty of some s anding between Mr. Kelley and Colonel Peckham, of the Eighth, growing out of an Government has paid out more than two article published in Cape Girardeau, flecting severely upon Mr. Kelley. He represents the Union feeling in Tennessee as very strong, and thousands anxiously waiting the advent of the Union army from the North. The Germans impressed into the Confederate service, he says, will desert on the first opportunity.
